If you're thinking it's a bit too expensive - don't. EXCELLENT!

This hotel is beautifully designed in a modern style. New and extremely clean. It is located right off the subway station so getting to it is very easy. The view from our corner harbor view room was the best of my whole trip to China. I definitely will stay there again when in Hong Kong. The only thing I felt could be improved would be if they added a jacuzzi, sauna or steam room to their fitness area and keep the pool open past 9 pm. Overall though it was an exemplary hotel experience!

- Robert, July 27, 2011

Loved everything about this hotel. The rooms are all super spacious and modern and staff was fantastic. I also enjoyed the club (sugar) upstairs with it's spectacular views and a delicious lunch on the first floor. The staff here really takes care of you, and it's rare to stay at a hotel that's so nice for such good rates. Oh! And all the rooms come with an iPod touch-- loved the playlists they put together. The whole experience was perfect. Thank you!!!

- Othman, September 6, 2011

Recommend with reservation

The East is a hip hotel in an up-and-coming part of Hong Kong inhabited by young professionals and local color. sadly, there are only two hotels to choose from in the Quarry Bay-Taikoo Shing area, which is a pity. One down Kings Road is a tired, but well-located locally run chain; the other (this) is not suited for families, female travelers or those of us who are the young seniors (60 somethings). White therooms are well-appointed they are small, sparse and not comfortable for showering (opens into the room with glass walls andin some rooms no shower doors).Ultra sleek and modern, this hotel is geared for the male business traveler. The rooftop bar, Sugar, is well-situated, but the service is not attentive and the prices as steep as the height of the elliptical building upon which it sits. But since it is nearly the only game in this part of town, I will split my visits between this and the one down the block.
