AMERICA'S 11 MOST ENDANGERED HISTORIC PLACES

Congressional Cemetery

WASHINGTON, DC

A woman in a grey t-shirt and black shorts is jogging on a paved path in a cemetery. A large, shaggy, light-brown dog is running alongside her. The cemetery is filled with various tombstones and gravestones of different shapes and sizes, set against a backdrop of green grass and trees. The scene is brightly lit, suggesting a sunny day.

Battle Mountain Sanitarium

HOT SPRINGS, SD

A photograph of a stone bridge with two large arches spanning a river. The bridge is constructed from rough-hewn grey and tan stones. The water is calm, reflecting the bridge and the surrounding forest. In the background, a mountain peak is visible through the trees, and its reflection is clearly seen in the water. The scene is set in a lush, green forest with tall evergreen trees.

NEAR PAGOSA SPRINGS, CO

A photograph of the Karnes County Courthouse, a two-story building with a central gabled section and rounded wings. The facade is light-colored with red brick accents around the windows and entrance. The entrance is arched and features a star above the door. Scaffolding is visible on the right side of the building, and a red safety net is at the base. The sky is blue with scattered clouds.

Theodore Roosevelt's Elkhorn Ranch

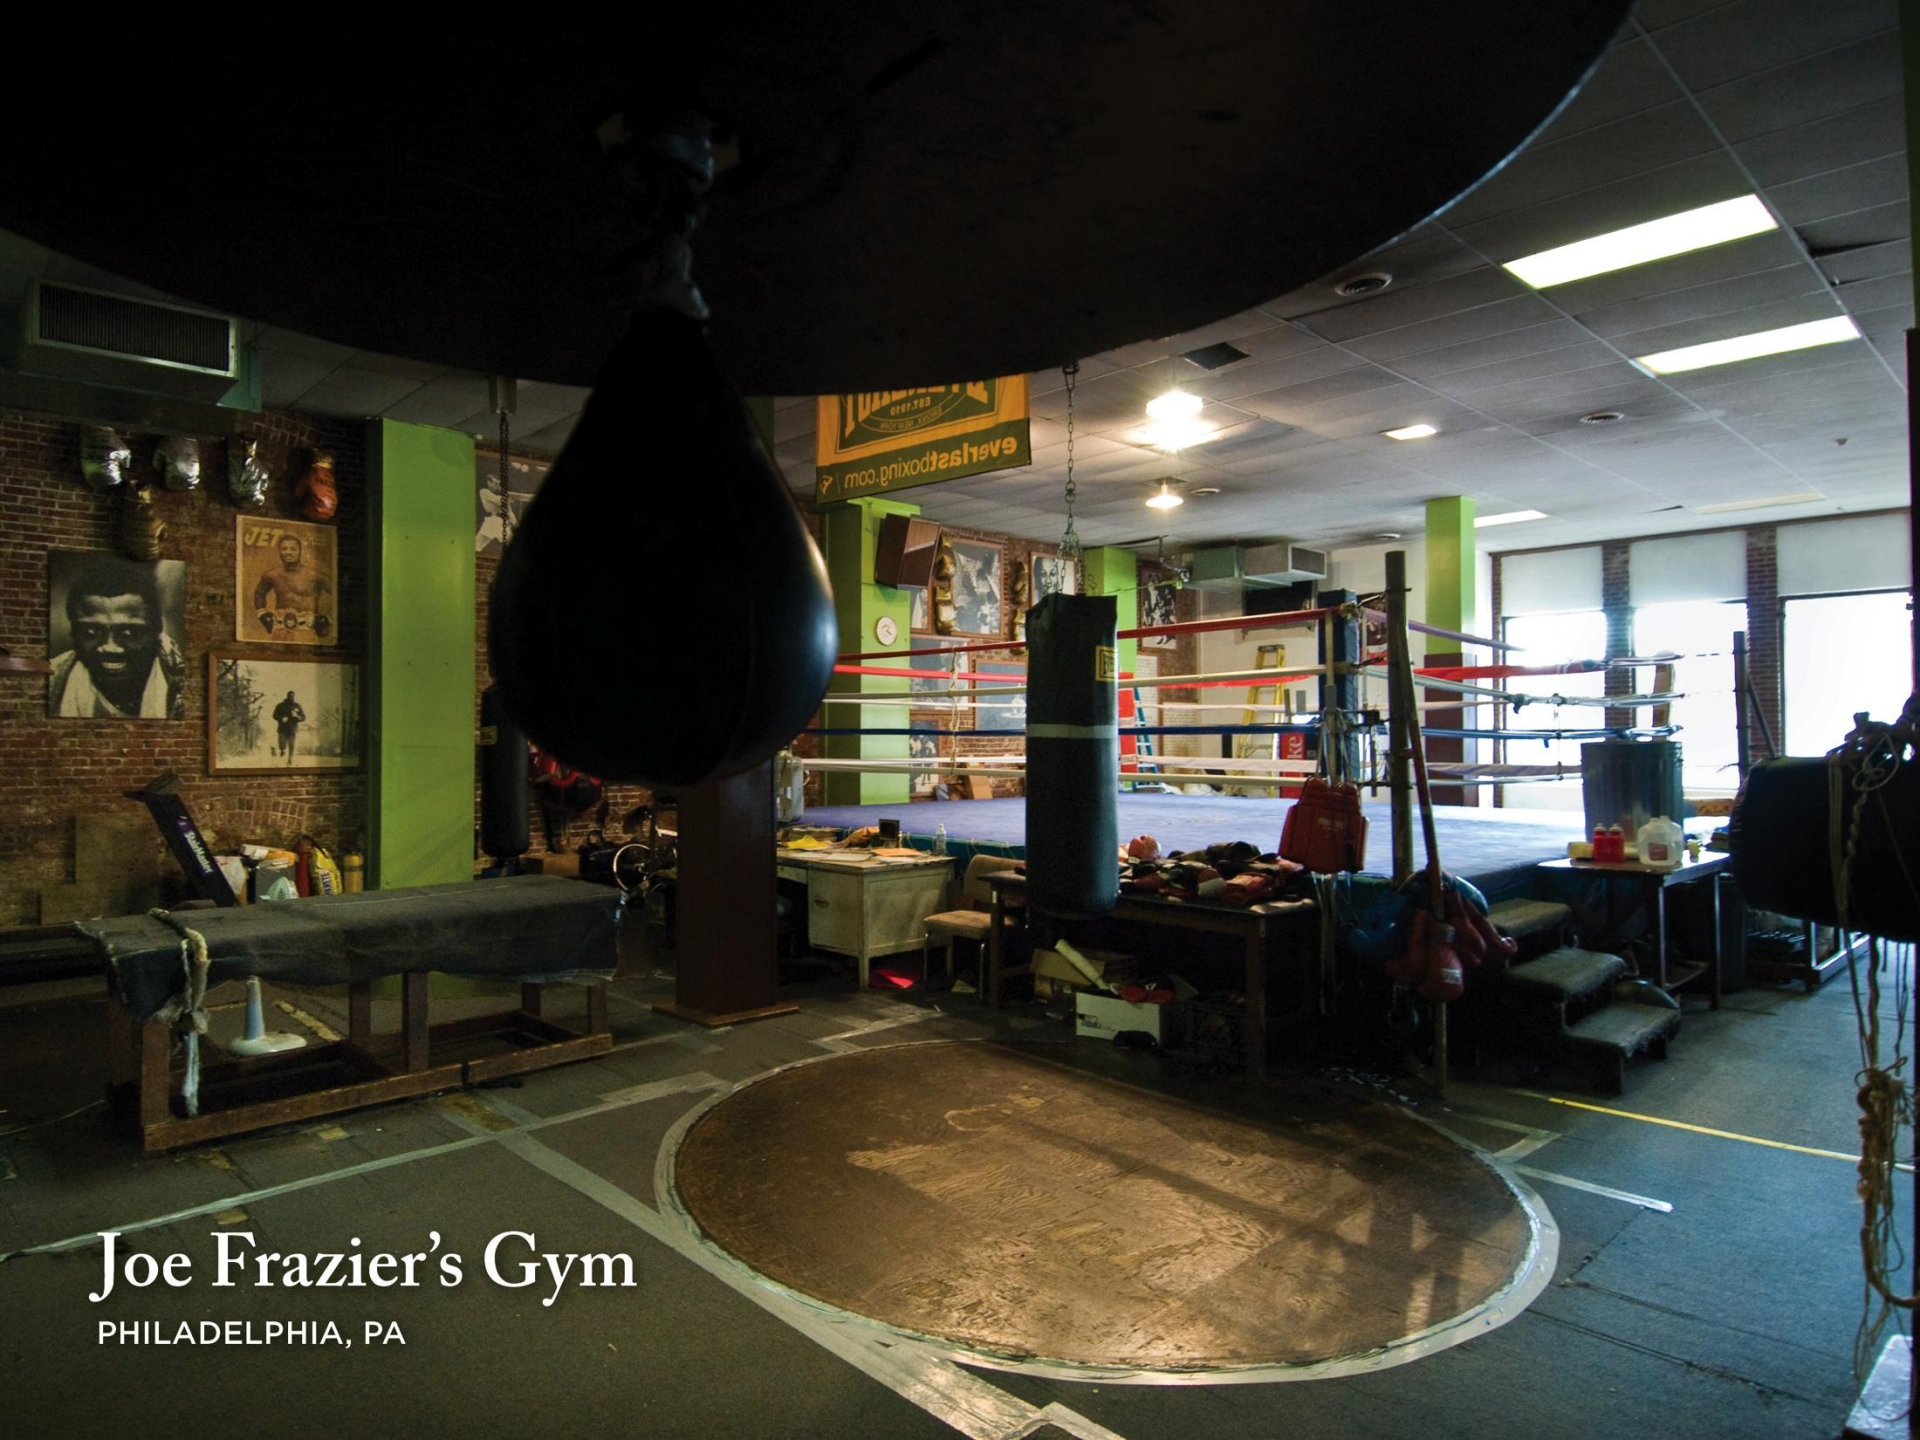

NEAR MEDORA, ND
