NEW Signature Cocktails

Take a step back in time and indulge in the history of the Inn over a signature cocktail, created by our very own mixologist, Danielle Zeidler.

A Fresh Start

fresh cucumber and mint muddled, bacardi rum, lime juice, club soda, a splash of sweet and sour with a cucumber - 9

1857 - Daniel and James Blackburn came from West Virginia to California to strike it rich in the gold fields. That success provided them with the money to purchase Rancho El Paso de Robles which included the naturally flowing hot springs and a stagecoach stop. However, gangs of lawless men roamed the countryside robbing stages and wagons. Soon Daniel joined the "Vigilance Committee" whose goal it was to stop the lawlessness - and was soon made Sheriff. Now that stagecoaches could travel safely through the area, more people stopped in Paso Robles. For the next two decades, the Blackburns made improvements to the "resort" and the fame started to grow.

Barbary Coast

watermelon and honey muddled with a splash of simple syrup, topped with re:find vodka, shaken and served in a chilled martini glass with a watermelon garnish - 13

The Barbary Coast girls have been a fixture of the annual Pioneer Day Celebration Parade held each October. The "ladies" don 19th Century dance hall attire complete with sequins and large signature hats with lots of feathers. They really know how to stir up the town!

Signature Cocktails

The Dirty James

chopin vodka and re:find gin with olive juice shaken and served in a chilled martini glass with bleu cheese stuff olives - 13

1868 - Two infamous outlaws, Frank and Jesse James, were busy robbing trains and getting themselves on the "Most Wanted" list. Then Jesse got shot and his lung wasn't healing properly. In the spring of 1868, the duo headed to California to "cool off" and give Jesse a chance to heal. Frank made the overland journey by train and stage. Jesse, too weak for the overland journey, took a steam around the horn to San Francisco, and then traveled by stage to San Luis Obispo County where they sought refuge with their uncle. The hot springs in Paso Robles helped Jesse heal from his gunshot wounds and he and his brother were soon restless. The very next summer, their uncle bought them steamship tickets back to New York.

Helen's Ghost

absolut® vanilla vodka with godiva white chocolate liqueur and frangelico, shaken and served in a chocolate swirled martini glass - 13

Helen Sawyer was the daughter of the Hotel General Manager Frank Sawyer in 1912. No one knows for sure what happened to her, but she apparently decided to spend her afterlife playing where she lived as a child. There are many stories of her being "seen" near the ballroom.

The Paderewski

belvedere vodka and kahlua over ice served in a rocks glass - 9

1913 - Famous pianist Ignace Paderewski nearly had to end his career when his hands could no longer play. In an effort to save his career, Paderewski ventured to Paso Robles where he spent three weeks bathing in the mineral waters until his hands were restored. Now a firm believer in the baths' health-giving properties, he and his Baroness wife, Helen, returned to the hot springs many times over the next 30 years. Today, the Paso Robles Inn is proud to showcase one of his pianos which sits in the entry to the ballroom.

The Burning Ember

bowen's whiskey over ice with muddled orange and cherry, splash of bitters and club soda - 10

1940 - Paso Robles Hot Springs Hotel's golden era ended abruptly due to a massive fire on a cold December night in 1940. Despite arriving on the scene within minutes of the alarm, firefighters were quickly driven out of the hotel's central hallways by scorching flames. Realizing that the central part of the hotel was doomed, firefighters concentrated their efforts on saving the gracious dining room wing of the hotel - now what we call the ballroom - and the only part of the hotel that survived the fire.

Signature Cocktails

The Duke

pendleton rye whiskey, sweet vermouth, splash of bitters, shaken and served in a chilled martini glass - 13

John Wayne's career spanned more than 50 years, during which time he became something more than just an actor - he became a legend. And the story goes that The Duke enjoyed a whisky from time to time at this very bar while filming scenes for some of his westerns out by the lake. His likeness at the entrance serves as a message of welcome to everyone who enters Cattlemen's Lounge.

Marilyn's Kiss

fresh strawberries muddled with re:find vodka over ice, sierra mist
and a splash of cream - 10

After a quick wedding in San Francisco, Marilyn Monroe and Joe DiMaggio headed down to Paso Robles where they spent their first night as man and wife enjoying a quiet dinner here at the Paso Robles Inn.

Martin-tini

patrón añejo, gran marnier, orange juice, campari, lime juice and splash of sierra mist, shaken and served in a chilled martini glass with a salted/sugar rim - 13

1999 - Tom Martin and family purchased the Paso Robles Inn and immediately began a major renovation to bring the Inn back to its former glory. The first project was the coffee shop. Its circular counter was rebuilt and its original chrome bar stools reinstalled. Then a mural depicting a South American cattle roundup was restored. Then onto the gardens... after replacing a dated pool and removing an asphalt driveway that cut through the gardens, bridges and walkways were created. Next, the dining room was updated, the rooms remodeled, and a major floor to ceiling restoration of the then boarded-up ballroom completed. Since then, there has been ongoing renovations at the Inn as the Martin Family continues to serve as stewards of the historic property.
